EVENT REPORT

CMS College of Engineering organizes awareness programs and orientation sessions for new students to inform them about the consequences of ragging and the anti-ragging measures in place. The institution implements strict rules and regulations which explicitly prohibit any form of ragging. These rules are communicated to all the students, and violations can result in disciplinary action or legal consequences. The college has established an anti-ragging committee which comprises of faculty members, administrators, and student representatives. The committee is responsible for addressing complaints related to ragging and taking appropriate action.

CMS College of Engineering organized an anti-ragging awareness programme to educate the students about the dangers of ragging. The event commenced with an Anti-Ragging Pledge led by college Admiral. The students sincerely committed themselves to refrain from any act of ragging and ensure a ragging-free environment within the institute. Thereafter, a dramatic scene was performed in the courtyard to raise awareness about the detrimental effects of ragging and promote an anti-ragging culture among students. The play aimed to educate and sensitize the audience about the consequences of ragging and encourage them to actively prevent and report any such incident. The play focused on showcasing realistic scenarios and their impact on victims, highlighting the emotional, physical, and psychological trauma experienced by those subjected to ragging.
